Impacting Urban Teens World Wide

Eighty-eight percent of teens admit to going online daily. Less than two percent of a teen's online experience caters to girls and teens of color.

Despite the need for age-appropriate accurate information, urban girls and teens are often forced to get their information from mainstream magazines targeting the 18-35 age demographic.

UrbanGirlz fills the gap by providing relevant and appropriate information while supporting the development of African American girls and teens. I am honored to give voice to urban girlz and teenz everywhere.
